The Janus School helps students with learning differences so they can access their full potential. We are the only independent day school in Central Pennsylvania dedicated to the needs of students with language- or math-based learning differences, ADHD, autism spectrum disorder, executive function difficulties (EFD), nonverbal learning disorders, or auditory processing disorder. We focus on each student's unique learning style, giving them the tools they need to achieve academic success and a happy, independent life long after they leave The Janus School.

Students with learning differences face huge obstacles in school. The inability to follow lessons, difficulties with reading and processing verbal instruction are just the start of many challenges LD students deal with daily. At The Janus School, we understand how students with LD learn differently. Instead of treating every student the same, Janus creates an inclusive and safe environment where teachers are given the resources and support to teach differently. Every Janus student receives a tailored education to their unique set of needs – setting them up for success throughout their lives.

It's all about the people - students, faculty, staff, parents, and you. The generous support we receive from you make the opportunity of new beginnings possible. Contributions to the Annual Fund help to close the gap between what tuition covers and the actual expense of educating a student at The Janus School. Generous businesses who participate in the Educational Improvement Tax Credit program (EITC) help to ensure that Janus students will have scholarship monies available to them. Your support powers our programs, ensures that we have adequate equipment to teach, and helps provide aid to families. Thank you!

There are many ways
to give.

Planned giving is a great way to make a gift to The Janus School that will continue to make a difference for years to come. Your generous contributions enable us to provide a life-altering education to boys and girls who deserve the opportunity for a future without limits.

APPRECIATED SECURITIES Stocks and publicly traded securities are easy to give and offer great tax advantages. Stock can be transferred electronically or mail us the stock certificate and a signed stock power for each certificate. Appreciated securities that you have held for more than one year can be transferred directly to The Janus School. By doing this, you will pay no capital gains tax on the transaction and you can deduct the full fair market value which is calculated by averaging the high and low share price on the gift date. If you are holding stock that has decreased in value, sell the stock yourself to realize the loss and take the deduction for tax purposes. You can then make a gift to The Janus School and take the charitable contribution deduction.

LIFE INCOME A Charitable Lead Trust provides current income to The Janus School while sheltering your heirs' inheritance from taxes. Income generated from the assets placed in trust is paid to the school for a period of years, after which the property is transferred to your heirs at a substantial tax savings. A Charitable Remainder Trust irrevocably transfers cash, securities, or property to a trust for the benefit of The Janus School. The donor or designated beneficiary receives a fixed dollar amount or percentage of the assets at least annually for life or for a fixed term up to 20 years. Upon death, or the end of the term, the trust terminates and the assets are transferred to The Janus School.

LIFE INSURANCE If you have life insurance policies that are no longer needed, you may either name The Janus School as the beneficiary or donate a policy to us. If you give a paid policy, you can receive an income tax deduction equal to the lesser of the cash value of the policy or the premiums paid. To qualify for a federal charitable contribution deduction on a gift of an existing policy, you must name The Janus School as owner and beneficiary.

BEQUESTS With a gift in your will, you can be part of the education of future generations. Bequests permit donors to commit assets that they might need during their lifetimes. You can bequeath a percentage of your estate, a fixed dollar amount, or specific personal property.

THERE ARE OTHER WAYS to make a significant future gift to The Janus School while retaining, or in many cases, increasing the income you receive from the asset used to make the gift. For more information, please contact our Director of Development, TIM STEFFEN.

OUR MISSION

To empower students who learn differently to become lifelong learners and problem solvers by giving them the skills, strategies, and confidence to achieve academic and personal success.
